

DISPOSITION OF PERSONAL PROPERTY WITHOUT ADMINISTRATION

$231.00 filing fee required

This type of proceeding is used to request release of assets of the deceased to the person who paid the final expenses, such as funeral or medical bills, for the last 60 days. Under Section 735.301, Florida Statutes, the estate must consist of personal property exempt from claim of creditors (see Section 732.402, Florida Statutes), and non-exempt personal property that does not exceed the amount of the funeral expenses. There can not be any real estate in the estate.

Basically, this type of administration is a reimbursement to the person who paid the funeral expenses. You can not profit from this type of estate. For example, if the funeral bill was $2,000 and the petitioner paid no medical bills, the amount of the non-exempt property that could be disbursed could not exceed $2,000. If funeral expenses have not been paid, the money should be paid directly to the funeral home.

In addition to the Petition for Disposition of Personal Property Without Administration, you must also provide the following:

- Certified copy of the Death Certificate
- The funeral bill showing who paid it. The person who paid it should be the same person as the petitioner.
- Medical bills for the last 60 days (if any). These must be listed on the affidavit as paid or unpaid, or covered by insurance.
- Specific information on accounts that are to be distributed, such as account numbers, name and address of fiduciary, and the amount in the account.

If more than one person paid the funeral expenses, the others may sign a waiver for one to receive the money.

If the decedent has a will, it must be deposited with the Clerk.

After the petition has been filed, the Judge will review the information and an order will be issued with directions to distribute the property to the proper persons. A certified copy will be provided to the petitioner.

Florida Statutes 735.301 and 732.402 follow.
